Pa Newc Observes

Thomas G. Allen, of 507 E. Sheridan avenue, Lawrence County, Pa., reported seeing the first robin in his vicinity this morning. The harbinger of spring was chirping in a tree in his back yard, and the neighbors were summoned to attest to the fact.

Freed of ice on Saturday, local streams remained at several feet above normal over the week-end, but none of them was near a flood stage.

Auto license applications are now reaching car owners in the city and county. The new licenses are due on April 1 on the cars.

New Castle postmen had quite a task on Saturday, and a day or two previous, delivering the multitude of valentines that were posted here for delivery on the St. Valentine occasion.

Predicted cold wave that was to hit the area for Sunday evidently got deflected somewhere else. Weather conditions on Sunday were such that much of the snow and ice that remained on the streets and highways melted off.

E. W. Eller, R. D. 1, New Castle, Ellwood road, reported to Pa Newc that on Sunday, during one of his strolls, he discovered a 20-inch snake. Also during the second week of January Mr. Eller noted a robin on his place.

Universal Military Training Is Urged By Gen. Eisenhower

By WILLIAM KERWIN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower warned today that America's security will be in "dire danger" if western Europe goes communist and urged that the United States strengthen her "weak" fighting arm through Universal Military Training and other measures.

Eisenhower stated that the U. S. "must remain the firm champion of those who seek to lead their own lives in peace with their neighbors." He said America's task is "to convince any possible aggressor that he can choose war only at the risk of his own destruction."

Army Is Weak

But, in his 12,000 word final report to Army Secretary Royall, the retired chief of staff grimly said that the global distribution of the army "leaves it weak in every sector" and called for immediate action to remedy the weakness.

Quadruplets Born At Latrobe Early Sunday

—Four tiny infants, born by caesarian section to a young Dorothy, Pa., mother, were taken to hospital today and were given an "excellent chance" to survive by officials at Latrobe hospital.

The quadruplets were born one month prematurely to Mrs. Barbara Wagner Zavada, 26, at one-minute intervals at 1:30 a. m. Sunday. The three girls and a boy weighed a total of 13½ pounds.

Today, in the special nursery set up by the hospital in anticipation of the quads' arrival, they were being fed by "medicine-dropper" size nipples in their incubators.

Appear Healthy

But they cried as lustily as such tiny infants can cry, and aside from their size appear like any other normal, healthy infant.

It had been known since last December that Mrs. Zavada would (Continued on Page Two)

No Recession In Business Now Seen By Snyder

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—(INS)—Treasury Secretary Snyder predicted today that there will be no immediate business recession, despite the plunge of food prices, and called for an increase in private investments abroad.

Simultaneously, Snyder declared that the economy-minded Congress may increase the President's proposed budget expenditures for national defense.

These were the highlights of the cabinet official's speech before the World Trade conference in Chicago where commodity exchanges began their sharpest break in history nearly a fortnight ago.

No Business Decline
Snyder asserted that business will continue to be stimulated by the needs of Europe and industry at home, adding:

"In view of this huge deficit of both consumer and capital goods, it is difficult to foresee any important decline in American business for some time ahead."

For the rehabilitation of war-devastated countries, Snyder said that government spending is able to meet only the "temporary short-term emergency requirements" and maintained:

"Clearly this is a job for private capital, which is available on a much more flexible basis."

Sen. Thomas Tells Committee To Cease Investigating Him

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—(INS)—Sen. Elmer Thomas (D) Okla., today served notice on the senate committee investigating commodity speculation that he considered any further probe of his market transactions an "unwarranted attack."

Thomas' demand that the investigators cease "bothering" him was made public as the group went into closed-door session with E. T. Maynard the Chicago speculator who made a $400,000 killing by calling the turn on the sagging commodity market.

(BULLETIN)

Reign Of Terror In Haifa's Streets

Jewish Action Announced As Reprisal For Slayings Of Six Jews Yesterday

JERUSALEM, Feb. 16.—(INS)—Haganah fighters launched a reign of terror in Haifa's streets today, killing eight Arabs and wounding 20 during the early morning hours.

The Jewish action was announced as a reprisal for the slaying of six Jews in the Palestine port city yesterday.

It took the form of ambushes and individual attacks, as well as sniping.

In Beisan Valley, meanwhile, Jewish settlers of the religious colony of Tiratzi called for Naganah reinforcements after fighting off a large band of Arab attackers in a three hour battle.

The Arabs attacked the colony early in the morning. Biting winds and sporadic rainstorms failed to stop the fighting.

Believe Backbone Of Cold Wave Is Definitely Broken

(By International News Service)

The backbone of a long cold wave in western Pennsylvania was definitely broken today.

The Weather bureau at Pittsburgh said temperatures would climb far above freezing today, and would be even higher tomorrow, following the longest cold wave of several years.

Higher Temperatures
The forecasters predicted temperatures of more than 50 in Pittsburgh this afternoon, and 65 Tuesday, with a low tonight of only 39.

Elsewhere in the area temperatures today will range from 35 up, and will be about 15 degrees higher tomorrow.

The Weather bureau said that, barring an unforeseen heavy rain, there was little likelihood of rivers in western Pennsylvania again nearing flood stage. The observers said there was not enough snow remaining in the watersheds of the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers to cause a serious runoff of water.

Light rains were forecast for tomorrow, however.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—President Truman was reported today to be drawing up a request for additional funds to help Greece and Turkey fight Communism as he prepared to send to congress his $70 million dollar relief program for China.

Mr. Truman will transmit to Capitol Hill today a report on the Greco-Turkish 400-million dollar aid program. It was said that his request for more funds for these two countries may follow shortly afterward.

Plan To Help China

The plan for helping China is expected to be made public early this week, possibly today.

The China program, evolved in the state department in co-operation with other agencies, is expected to meet some Republican demands that the threat of Communism in the Far East be met simultaneously with the European recovery program.

The amount of aid was revealed a week ago in answer to the demands of Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich., chairman of the senate foreign relations committee.

Amount Surprise

The amount came as a surprise since Secretary of State Marshall, himself an exponent of aid to (Continued on Page Two)

High Waters Cover North Beaver Road

Little Beaver river overflowed its banks for a short time over the week end, throwing massive cakes of ice on the Enon Valley-Mt. Jackson Highway. It was reported this morning by Alfred Martin, County Superintendent of Highways, that for several hours the road was inundated by the waters causing traffic to detour for a short while until the condition was taken care of by the highway department.

The large chunks of ice were broken up and removed from the highway so that traffic could pass over the road with safety. This is the only state road in the county which was buried by water it is learned.

C.I.O. To Draft Wage Demands

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 16.—(INS)—The 41-man executive board of the CIO-United Steelworkers of America was scheduled to begin meeting in Pittsburgh today to draft demands for a wage increase for the union's 875,000 workers.

President Philip Murray will head the conferences, which observers believe will result in demands for a "substantial" wage boost for steelworkers.

Union officials have indicated that the recent decline in prices will have no effect on their determination to seek a third post-war wage rise.

The union's view of price reduction is that no one can tell yet whether the declines will be permanent, or whether prices will zoom again.

Thousands Late For Work Today In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16.—(INS)—Thousands of persons were delayed en route to work today when fire broke out in signal equipment near the Fairmont avenue station of the Broad Street subway.

Traffic was halted between Erie Avenue and Walnut Street at 6:38 a. m. and was still at a standstill an hour and a half later.

Passengers were led to safety through the smoke filled tube when the power was shut off.

Firemen extinguished the blaze with chemicals, but traffic could not be resumed until the damaged equipment was repaired. The Ridge Avenue spur of the subway also was tied up.

Hundreds of persons called the city hall to inquire if the operators had gone on strike. Trolley and tube operators had threatened last week to call a strike for increased wages today, but an agreement was reached last Friday.

Man Walks Into Allegheny River

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 16.—(INS)—Police today were attempting to identify a man who walked into the Allegheny river in Pittsburgh and disappeared in the swift current of the swollen stream.

An old brown hat with the initials "P. M. F." was their own clue. River patrolmen were unable to drag the river because of the high water and swift current.

Witnesses on the Sixth street bridge told police of seeing the man walk into the river until his hat floated away.

Flood Waters Are Reported As Slowly Receding

Threat Of Damage Still Remains In Some Of Southern Areas

OHIO TO REACH 55 FEET AT CINCINNATI

(By International News Service)

Residents of flood-ravaged southern states found some relief today from high waters which have spilled over river banks and driven them from their lowland homes.

The U. S. weather bureau added to the general optimism of the homeless by predicting fair weather as the waters slowly receded.

Only occasional light rains are forecast for the Tennessee and Ohio River valleys, where much of the damage has been wrought. They are not expected to affect the already-swollen streams.

Warning Note

One warning note was sounded by the prediction of warmer weather, which will shoot the mercury several degrees above the freezing mark.

However, forecasters believed the temperature would not be of sufficiently long duration to have much effect on the snows and cause flooding.

The focal point of the water-covered lowland areas was in Kentucky, Mississippi, Tennessee and West Virginia. Latest reports showed that high-water levels in that area were dropping.

Threat Remains

A threat still remained in the Pittsburgh area, along the Ohio river and in Alabama, Georgia and North Carolina.

Some officials warned that warmer temperatures possibly would melt snow in the Allegheny and Monongahela river watersheds and flood the rivers to overflowing.

A crest of 55 feet, three feet above flood stage, was predicted for the Ohio river at Cincinnati by tomorrow noon.

Charge Communists Foment Anarchy In Belgium Now

(BULLETIN)

BRUSSELS, Feb. 16.—(INS)—Charges that the Communist party is fomenting anarchy in Belgium were made today as labor disorder continued.

Postal workers of the Communist unions refused to return to work despite "civil mobilization" orders by the government and the warning that they face dismissal.

Gas and electricity workers are still undecided whether to end their strike.

Premier Paul Spaak declared, "The Communists are trying in Belgium what they vainly tried in France and Italy."

Spaak's charge followed a declaration issued by independent labor unions which condemned the Communist party for intruding into the unions' province.

The declaration said: "A certain political party is trying to have strikes continue for political aims."

gress to settle the question of Universal Military Training "without further delay" as a step toward this end.

Eisenhower wrote: "By no stretch of the facts can the United States army, as it is now manned, deployed and engaged, be considered an offensive force."

"It is not ready to respond to an emergency call because its global distribution not only leaves it weak in every sector but prevents the concentration of anything beyond the merest handful for possible tactical use."

The general added that "this virtually complete dispersion of our ground strength cannot be permitted to continue over any considerable period, because there are elements in both the world situation and our own strategic position that demand the constant availability of respectable land forces."

Two obstetricians were brought from Pittsburgh when Mrs. Zavada's personal physician, Dr. J. Wiley Hartmann, decided it was time to perform the caesarian section. The special nursery was set up, and two nurses assigned to care for the infants.

While their father, Andrew Zavada, 34, a millworker, paced the floor and chain-smoked, the babies were delivered 15 minutes after the mother was taken to the operating room. It was Zavada's first experience as a father.

Mrs. Zavada has a four-year-old son by a previous marriage. Her first husband was killed in the Normandy invasion in the last war. Zavada named the four children within minutes after birth. John Michael, 3 1/2 pounds, was born first. Then came Anna Mary, 3 1/4 pounds; Barbara Rose, 3 1/4 pounds, and Bernadette Elizabeth, three pounds.

A half-hour after birth all were christened by Fr. Theodore Hodobay of St. Mary's Greek Catholic church in Latrobe.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

Great Britain's remarkable good fortune in always being able to lay its hands on a really top-flight man to represent the throne as ambassador to Washington was displayed again today in the appointment of Sir Oliver Sherwell Franks to this highly delicate diplomatic post.

During the Twentieth Century, at least, and regardless of whether a Conservative, Liberal, Laborite or coalition government was in power in London, Britain has chosen the highest possible type of representation.

Measures Up
Sir Oliver measures up in every degree—good birth, a fine education, a liberal outlook and an entire absence of the disliked patronizing attitude sometimes associated with British titles.

Going back to the times just before the first World War, it will be found that Britain's ambassador in 1913 was Viscount Bryce, an eminent scholar as well as diplomat, whose history of the American commonwealth remains a standard classic.

Bryce was succeeded in 1913 by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice. His was a difficult assignment indeed. From 1914 to 1916 his country was at war with imperial Germany and the United States was neutral.

Unscrupulous Germany
He had to operate against some of the most unscrupulous German diplomats in all history and to present Britain's case to an America that was virtually pledged to peace at any price.

One dignified personage followed another. There was the Marquis of Reading, brilliant, fast-thinking, urbane.

Then came the highly intellectual Sir Auckland Geddes, followed by Lord Penrith; the huge and jovial Sir Ronald Lindsay; the Marquess of Lothian; the Earl of Halifax and finally Lord Inverchapel.

Sir Oliver Franks' immediate predecessor, Sir Horace Rumbold, was a man of the stresses and strains of two world wars within a generation, the operations of propagandists and recurring campaigns of diplomatic abuse and slander, the British embassy in Washington always remained an oasis of grace and decency.

Without exception, Britons have enjoyed the assignment to Washington.

Sir Oliver is pictured as accepting merely dutifully and with reluctance. His interest is philosophy and the teaching of it and his home is on cloistered Oxford.

But he sailed into aircraft production with youthful enthusiasm when the war government asked him to, and tackled British aspects of the Marshall plan with equal vigor upon request.

It seems entirely certain in this world of uncertainties that he will prove an able and popular ambassador in Washington. And if recent history and past performances of his own are any criterion, he will wind up by having a first-class good time in the process.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PREVENTING HOME ACCIDENTS

Accidents of a parent, grandparent or other adults in the home may cause physical or emotional hardships for the child. Ice and snow bring many hazards, especially to parents and grandparents.

Except in dire necessity, old persons should not venture out of doors in icy weather. If the steps and walk are kept clean of snow, ice may be prevented in most instances. Many homes have coal ashes or cinders from the furnace.

A bucketful of them always on hand to be scattered on the icy, snowy steps can help avoid many accidents. When ashes or cinders are not available there should be a bucket of sand.

Fine Training
It is fine training of a child over six or so to take responsibility for keeping the walk and steps clear of snow and for putting salt, cinders, ashes or sand on them. See the moral values he might gain therefrom. Such a job might be made to appeal to a boy or girl as a kind of grownup responsibility, especially should he get deserved approval.

Many a youngster is tempted to slide from the drive to the street, even right in the street. The children for whom a safe coasting place is provided near their home, as in a park or on a hilly street roped off by the police, are very fortunate. But children who are properly disciplined are not allowed to use their sleds in clearly dangerous places.

Throughout the year, the bathtub can be dangerous to adults, especially to old persons. Many accidents, some fatal, occur in the bathtub. Most of these accidents could be prevented by placing in the bottom of the tub a rubber mat.

With the tad of no windows open at night, there come into many tightly-built homes new hazards from monoxide gas escaping from furnaces, defective flues, stoves and burners. Wise parents take strict precautions against such hazards.

It is wonderful when children are prompted at school to take responsibility for being alert to home hazards and for taking wise precautions. In addition to the immediately practical values gained therefrom are also moral values through thoughtfulness about others.

Jobs Upon A Time
Actor Bill Edwards was once a rodeo performer and photographer's model. Strange to say, this actor never has been cast in a western.

Guy Lombardo was something of a child prodigy. At 11 years, he organized a band with his young brothers, Carmen and Lebert, and a piano-playing neighbor boy, Fred Kreitzer. The boys made their debut before the Mothers' club of London, Ontario, their home town. This was the start of the now famous Royal Canadians band.

From Me To You
By MESEALL

It makes no difference who you are. Whether your walking, or driving a car; Pay strict attention to the traffic lights, my friend.

The red means stop, as you all know. Wait till it's green, that's the signal to go. Follow this rule and your sure to win in the end.

It's not a command, just good common sense. If we cooperate it will cut accidents. That's what the lights are there for, don't you see?

Try using your head, before you use your feet. If we all do that before we cross the street We would save scores of lives in our land of the free.

So much for that, what about the highway. Lives are being sacrificed day after day. State Police are sure having their troubles everywhere.

They're satisfied intoxicated who should never drive a car. Past records show it caused more accidents by far: Than anything else you can think of, it just isn't fair.

Alcohol and gas don't mix as you know. Try keeping this in mind where ever you go: If you must have a drink, wait until some other time.

Call in a few friends, sit down and relax. Get a form, figure out your income tax. That will be a lot better than being held for a crime.

We're hoping that everyone, everywhere. Will understand that we're trying to be fair: Something must be done to save precious lives to day.

Make a new resolution, and follow it through. Drive slow from now on whatever you do: Let's all give it a fair trial, what do you say?

Defect In Political System

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Now that the clamor of politics grows louder and louder, it might be well to stop for just a moment and look at the fundamental fault that bedevils everything the government undertakes. In that connection let's look back at a significant date.

On Nov. 5, 1946, the American voters, exercising their inalienable right, elected Republican majorities in both the Senate and the House. Clearly this was a profound change after fourteen years of Democratic rule. But the way in which this change would work to complicate and slow down every act of government was scarcely realized at the time, except by a few.

On Nov. 6, Sen. J. William Fulbright, Democrat, of Arkansas was asked to comment on the outcome of the elections which had displaced his party in the Congress. He replied by suggesting that President Truman should resign so that a Republican might take his place and thereby restore harmony and the possibility of decisiveness to the government.

Fulbright is a student of government with a thorough knowledge of how the American system works and it doesn't work. He can have had little or no expectation that the President would follow his advice. But he chose this means of dramatizing the stalemate that he could already see on the 1947 horizon.

For his pains he was generally abused. His suggestion was taken as impugning Mr. Truman's courage. Within his own party there was a tendency to ostracize him. And Mr. Truman took the occasion of a Gridiron Dinner to rap Sen. Fulbright on the knuckles for his audacity.

In the light of what has happened since then this reaction seems a little silly. How much more courage it would have taken for Mr. Truman to step down, recognizing the inherent flaw in our system of divided powers. He would thereby have created a precedent which could have had the most far-reaching influence on American development.

The President would have made a place for himself in history such as few Presidents occupy. As things are going today, his record will not be the brightest in the Presidential book.

Even from the point of view of practical politics, the Democrats might now be in a stronger position.

The constitution requires that a Presidential election be held every four years. Those dates roll around regardless of war or peace or the imminent threat of war.

It was no accident that Hitler started his war of world conquest on the eve of 1940 and subjugated Europe in the spring of that Presidential year. The Nazis were convinced we would be so paralyzed (Continued on Page Eight)

MARSHALL SAID "I THINK SO"

Lieutenant-General Albert C. Wedemeyer has prepared what is supposed to be a comprehensive report on the actual situation in China. Those familiar with his experience in China military and diplomatic, and who are acquainted with his character and intelligence, assume that this report will be a frank and comprehensive statement. Evidently, however, there is no intention on the part of the Executive or State Department to release the Wedemeyer findings to the public, or even to Congress.

Secretary Marshall, queried by a member of Congress, conceded that "part of it" might be revealed, but intimated that the report contained "top secrets" vital to the Chinese Nationalist government.

The secretary has proposed that three hundred million dollars be appropriated for China and suggested the contribution of twenty million dollars a month to combat inflation in that country. Just what effect a mere twenty million dollars a month could have on the Chinese financial situation, under which an American dollar buys a market-basket full of Chinese currency, Mr. Marshall does not venture to say. The interesting angle of the Secretary's statements to Congress appears in this excerpt from the Associated Press account of his appearance:

"I Think So"

"Asked by Representative Fulton of Pennsylvania if he wanted Congress to grant aid to China without having seen the report, Marshall replied: 'I think so.'"

Thus Congress is asked to appropriate three hundred million dollars of American taxpayers' money for China without having any definite or reliable information as to actual needs or actual conditions. In other words, the State Department is asking for the equivalent of a blank check.

THE GOOD FEELING
Whenever I've dreaded what ought to be done
And thought up excuses my duty to shun,
I've found when I've gone, though I wanted to stay,
I've always felt better when coming away.

The paths that are pleasant are easy to tread.
It's always the difficult journey I dread.
But whenever I've done what I wished to delay,
I've always felt better at close of the day.

I fancy we're all an excuse-making lot.
Time bids us to do what we'd much rather not.
But I know when I've made myself do what I should,
There's a glow in the heart and that feeling is good.

Anent The Polish Betrayal

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—It is typical of the worshippers of the late Mr. Roosevelt that they should agree with practically everything in the impressive and significant book of Mr. Arthur Bliss Lane, "I Saw Poland Betrayed," except the single statement that at Yalta and Tehran Mr. Roosevelt, in his effort to charm Mr. Stalin, abandoned the principles of the Atlantic Charter and, in effect, cast aside his promises to Poland, opening wide the door for the savage and brutal domination of that suffering country by the Soviet forces.

THAT, of course, is an extremely serious charge—particularly when it is recalled that in 1944 hundreds of thousands of American Poles voted solidly for Mr. Roosevelt in the firm conviction that he was the vigilant and unshakable champion of Polish freedom and independence. But it is not a new charge. Others have asserted that at these Roosevelt-Stalin meetings Poland was bithely "sold down the river." The former American President trustfully relying upon the unsupported word of the Soviet dictator, utterly ignoring his long, black record for violation of treaties, agreements and pledges; incredibly permitting him to have a free hand in Poland.

OF all who have made this devastating accusation, Mr. Lane carries the most weight, presents the most convincing evidence and was in best position to know the facts. It no more can be claimed that he was inspired by a personal or political motive than it can be contended he did not fully appreciate the nature and implications of his statements. Here is no Roosevelt hater, no representative of "reactionary forces," no "economic royalist" or ambitious seeker of office. Instead, here is an outstanding American with a distinguished career of diplomatic service covering more than 30 years in various parts of the world.

APPOINTED Ambassador to Poland by Mr. Roosevelt himself, he was in London in 1944 when Poland was occupied by the enemy and her Government was in London. He entered Warsaw immediately following the German surrender and remained there until last year, an eye-witness to every step of the Soviet seizure of Poland, with full understanding of the callousness of the pledge violation and of the humiliating failure of our Government to lift a hand to prevent, or utter an effective word to protest what, beyond question, was one of the most dreadful and indefensible crimes against a free people in all world history.

BECAUSE of his official position and by reason of our Government's apathy, Ambassador Lane was personally impotent to halt the straggle of Poland. When he talked with Mr. Roosevelt, after the latter's election in 1944, he urged the importance of insisting to the Soviet Government that the independence of Poland be maintained. The Roosevelt reply was: "Do you want me to go to war with Russia?" When he returned to Warsaw he did what he could, but the Soviet representatives paid slight attention to him, and his own Government not only did not back him up but, over his earnest protest and with American citizens unjustly imprisoned, loaned the Polish puppet Government $90,000,000.

THE whole story as told by Mr. Lane is a sickening one of shameful treachery, broken promises and unshakable brutality. It is interesting to note that the Lane report, both as to responsibility for this murderous assault upon the integrity of a great people and upon the character of the occupation, coincides with that made in Mr. Jan Ciechanowski's book, published two years ago. Mr. Ciechanowski for many years was the distinguished Polish Ambassador to this country. By some it was unfairly argued that as a Pole he was prejudiced. But no prejudice can be charged against Mr. Lane. He is not a Pole; he is an American diplomat with no political connections, aspirations or purposes. Early last year he resigned his post as Ambassador to Poland and, at the age of 52, closed his long diplomatic career solely to be able to tell the American people the truth of what happened to Poland—and why.

THIS he has done in his book and is doing in his lectures. It is a shocking story and few Americans can reflect upon their country's part in it without a feeling of shame. The defense of Mr. Roosevelt's role, at Yalta, Tehran and after the seizure began, is not a convincing one. Chiefly, it amounts to statements from his former intimates that Mr. Lane has made a "valuable contribution." They personally know of Mr. Roosevelt's "deep concern" for Polish freedom and had often discussed with him his ideas for maintaining it. This clearly inadequate reply is supplemented by a transparently futile effort to shift the blame for what happened, first to former Secretary of State Stettinius and then to former Secretary of State Byrnes.

IN other words, no reply worthy of the name has been made. Nor is it likely one will be. For the historians probably the kindest thing is to accept the explanation that Mr. Roosevelt was a sick man whose judgment was impaired. Certainly the notion, which so many agree Mr. Roosevelt cherished, that he, who spoke no word of Russian, could, through two interpreters, "charm" Mr. Stalin, who spoke no word of English, seems hard to reconcile with reason. Before you start be sure you can stop. Can you be sure your car will stop at a dangerous intersection? Can you be sure you'll control down a steep grade? Are your brakes efficiently adjusted for quick stops? Don't wait for a crash to find out. Why not form the habit of having periodic checks made of your safety equipment. Remember, it's your car and your life that may be at stake.

AN ARMY OF PAYROLLERS

In view of the inflation, some of which is due to government policies including that of lavish expenditure of the public funds, many people are puzzled to know just why President Truman is insisting that he be given plenty of spending money, through a forty-billion-dollar budget this year. The Republicans in the House have been demanding a six and a half billion dollar tax cut, and the White House is vehemently opposed to this, opposed to any tax reduction which will cut down receipts. The President recommended his now-explored $40-a-head tax cut plan only with the proviso that the money lost through this reduction be made up by plastering a higher rate on industry.

When the matter of necessary lavish spending is mentioned by the New Dealers, attention is always directed toward the Marshall Plan for reviving Europe. Yet even this expensive plan accounts for only a small fraction of the budget. What the administration really is determined on apparently is to keep all the boys on the swollen Federal payroll until after the election. The New Dealers have taught Mr. Truman that the way to win at the polls is through aid of a top-heavy army of Federal employees. Every effort is being made to keep this army as large as possible until after the election.

There are still nearly 2,000,000 people on the Federal payroll. The budget makers are doing their best to take care of this army at least until after the election. If the figures of the administration are accepted there will still be twice as many civilian employees on the payroll as there were in the days before the war is now nearly three years behind us.

When we look at these figures and the pressure being applied by the administration to keep as many as possible on the payroll, we begin to realize just why President Truman thinks there can be no tax reduction this year unless a little is taken from the lowest brackets and then collected off the profits of industry, which would, of course, only add to the high cost of living because the consumer eventually foots all bills.

Evidently the New Deal leaders believe it is more important politically to keep their workers on the payroll than it is to afford tax relief to people who sorely need it.

SIGNIFICANT REPORT

The Economic and Social Council, one of the major setups of the United Nations, has disgorged its first economic survey, covering 37 of the less-developed countries of the world, ranging from Baluchistan to Poland. The picture it gives is rather a dismal one.

Only four countries among the 37 studied have made much progress toward industrializing or otherwise making the most of their resources. The lucky four are Argentina, India, Pakistan and Yugoslavia.

India and Pakistan have had the benefits of British rule, and still face the problem of solving inter-group violence and getting down to work. Yugoslavia has a communist dictatorship which, of course, keeps the noses of the workers to the grindstone, and thus for the first time in history they have no time to fight their foreign rulers, their neighbors or one another. As for freedom—they've never had enough of it to know what they're missing.

Argentina has great natural resources, and Peron, who is no foreign government's man, is getting results economically.

In all these countries, the report notes certain common approaches to economic problems. There is a tendency for the government to take more responsibility for economic progress, to take stock of the nation's assets, to help or in some places to replace private enterprise in making available sufficient capital, know-how and skilled labor.

But the report offers no theory as to why this has worked out in only four nations out of 37.

FOR MEN ONLY

The ladies have been subjected to considerable friendly kidding about their handbags. Men love to point out that women carry so many different things in them that they can never find the one item they are looking for.

Sometimes they show a bit of resentment when a line is held up while a woman rummages through her pocket-book for change. Well, here's more material for the brutes who extract vicarious pleasure from poking fun at the fair sex for the failing.

At Tulsa, a contest was held to discover the woman's handbag containing the largest number of items. No details concerning the manner in which the contest was conducted, or the number of handbags surveyed, are available. Just an announcement of the winner and the score.

Mrs. Harriet Hawk, member of the Tulsa Business and Professional Women's Club, came through with 218 separate items, and the bag wasn't too large at that. The prize was a purse flashlight, to bring the total to 219, unless the owner decides to discard some of the items which she declared had been in the bag for more than two years.

Well, there it is, men. You told yourselves so.

Sears Employees Share In Profits

Forty-five Employees Learn Extent To Which They Shared in 1947 Profits

Forty-five employees of Sears, Roebuck and Co. in New Castle, today learned the extent to which each is sharing in that company's 1947 profits.

Because of their membership in "The Savings and Profit Sharing Pension Fund of Sears, Roebuck and Co. Employees," these men and women today received from C. M. Bashew, manager of the Sears store, individual statements as to the amounts being credited to their fund accounts out of last year's profits.

According to Mr. Bashew, the New Castle, members have to their credit in the fund an aggregate of 1323.131 shares of Sears stock plus a cash balance of $13,182.52. Based on a January 31st market value of 34 dollars per share for Sears stocks, this group has an investment worth, in aggregate, $58,168.97.

Mr. Bashew, explained that Sears employees are eligible to join this fund after one year of service. Employee members deposit five per cent of their salaries into their individual accounts each year, with the maximum deposit limited to $250 annually. The company contributes into the fund an established percentage of its profits which are distributed proportionately to employee members depending on length of service.

This year those employees with less than five years service with Sears had credited to their accounts $1.15 for every dollar they themselves contributed. Employees who have been with the company from five to ten years were credited $2.30 for every dollar saved. For those with over ten years service the company placed $3.45 into the fund for every dollar put in by the member. The fourth participating group—employees over fifty years of age with over fifteen years of service—were credited $4.60 from the company for every dollar deposited.

State Revenue Bureau Changes License System

HARRISBURG, Feb. 16.—(INS)—Twenty-four hour service on motor vehicle tags, titles and registration has been ended by the state revenue department in a move against car thefts rings and repeated traffic violators.

Secretary David W. Harris said plates and papers will be sent by registered mail to applicants' homes instead of to the service. The change will not prevent notaries public and automobile agencies from giving prompt service.

Under the old system, messengers from services obtaining licenses and registrations charged a fee for going to the state capital, completing the transaction and turning the papers over to customers on returning to headquarters.

The abandoned system allowed persons wishing to conceal their identities or activities to obtain papers by giving false names and addresses.

Catholic High In Philadelphia Burns

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16.—(INS)—Classes were suspended today for 1,100 boy students at Roman Catholic high school in Philadelphia which was damaged by flames shortly before midnight.

Three firemen were injured slightly while fighting the blaze.

The fire broke out at the head of a stairway on the third floor and damaged a class room, the hallway, part of the roof and the cupola. Smoke and water added considerably to the damage, however.

The cause of the blaze was not determined immediately. Rev. John A. Carlin, rector of the school, said a basketball game had been held on the third floor about eight hours before the flames were discovered.

At birth, a black bear cub weighs from 9 to 12 ounces, which is about 1/200 to 1/250 of its mother's weight. It is about eight inches in length, blind, and is covered with dark hair, so thin that it is practically naked.

Highland U. P. Starts Contest

Six Weeks Pre-Easter Attendance Campaign in Sabbath School Gets Under Way

Highland Sabbath school opened its six weeks pre-Easter attendance campaign Sunday, Feb. 15, with an assembly meeting of the school.

Superintendent J. Harold Vance presented the general attendance campaign idea and spoke of the results obtained in previous contests. Russell Johnston spoke of the method of computation of points in the various contests with- in the school. Mrs. Clark McClelland led the group in singing and she was ably assisted by the newly organized intermediate choir.

This year it is planned to have the nine organized adult classes compete against each other in a class contest and they will use the new point system, which gives 100 points for 80 per cent attendance of members present. It is planned to give five points for each visitor present and five for each associate member present. After three successive attendances by a visitor they are enrolled as an active member and a bonus is earned of five more points.

Again this year percentage of church attendance will be figured. This percentage is based on those present in Sabbath school.

Last Sunday on a preliminary check up of the organized classes, the following classes made over 100 points: Men's class 123, Baldwin class 117, Wilkinson class 110 and the Flannery class 105.

The contest is to start Sunday, Feb. 22. The Intermediate and Young People's departments are competing against each other and the Primary and Junior departments are having another competitive contest on points.

It is urged by the contest committee that all absentees be contacted before next Sunday. Banners are to be awarded to class with highest number of points at the end of the contest and to the department with the highest number of points for one year's possession. In addition a weekly banner will be awarded to the weekly winner for one week's possession. This weekly banner is to bear the name of the weekly winner.

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

There seems to be a strange hesitancy upon the part of the citizens this year to seek public office. While petition for placing names upon ballots are available at the present time, only three petitions have been taken out for the two Assembly positions and none for Senate and Congress. Petitions that have been taken out for Congress have been from Beaver county.

There has been a minor rush for petitions for county committeemen on both parties but even these are slow. There are 296 committee places to fill in the primary.

Third Annual Event To Take Place In George Washington Junior High School

Plans for the annual Brownie tureen dinner are about completed. Each week the Brownie troop leaders meet in the Girl Scout office to make decorations and assemble program booklets, discuss plans for the program and in general do all the little things which are necessary to make any large gathering successful.

The dinner this year is to be held on Thursday evening February 19, at 5:30 o'clock in the George Washington junior high school cafeteria.

It is to be tureen style. Dessert and beverages will be furnished.

This event, which is the third annual dinner of the group, is sponsored by the program committee of the Girl Scout Council, of which Mrs. Harry Wetick is chairman. Mrs. Paul Forcey, commissioner, will be among the special guests and will be on the program to bring greetings from the council.

The program, which will take place in the auditorium of the school, will include a fire ceremony, group singing, led by Mrs. Lois Jenkins, and a play under the direction of Miss Clara Hartsuff, the cast being members of the dramatic department of the senior high school.

Committees for this affair include:

Membership Tea At Elm St. Y.W.C.A.

The Valentine theme was beautifully carried out in the decorations at the mid-winter membership tea of the Elm Street Branch of the Y.W.C.A., yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Celeste Atkinson and Mrs. Georgia Miller served as hostesses. Mrs. J. A. Gillespie, in charge of arrangements, presided over a brief program, that included piano selections by the Misses Audrey Jackson and Faith Nelson, and a vocal solo by Miss Dorothy King.

A series of historical facts concerning the founding and growth of the Elm Street Y.W.C.A. were brought out by Miss Shirley Webber in a short talk. She told of the original meeting at the close of World War I when unexpected circumstances caused Mrs. Blanche Dillard, the Rev. S. C. Harris of St. Luke's A.M.E.Z. church, and Miss Alice Elder of Central Y.W.C.A. to come together in an earnest desire to urge New Castle to do more to fill the needs of its Negro girls and women.

Miss Webber then told the dramatic story of the first mass meeting, the purchase of property, the first year's membership drive that netted 120 members; and ended by expressing a hope for an all-inclusive New Castle Y.W.C.A. in the days to come.

Since the Y.W.C.A. will launch its membership campaign later this month, Mrs. Cleo Clark and Mrs. Carolyn Williams both mentioned the approaching campaign, to be headed again by Mrs. Gillespie, and asked that leaders be ready to top last year's high of 305 members. Miss Marguerite White of Central Y.W.C.A. spoke convincingly and earnestly on the subject: "Why I Would Be A Y.W.C.A. Member", stating that she spoke from the viewpoint of a non-member. She gave endorsement to the necessity of a "Y" program to augment the work of the church, and other social agencies.

The English town of Bideford, in Devonshire, dates from before the Norman Conquest. In the 17th century it was a serious rival of London and Exeter as a center of trade. The town was the birthplace of Sir R. Grenville, one of the founders of Virginia.

Paris Likely To Get 1948 Session Of UN Assembly

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Feb. 16.—Paris stands head and shoulders above Brussels and Geneva today as the most likely candidate for the 1948 session of the United Nations General Assembly.

In a report on European capitals visited to determine the most advantageous facilities for this annual gathering, U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie disclosed that the French capital not only has the most suitable facilities but also the most attractive currency situation through recent devaluation of the franc.

Lie presented his report to a nine-nation committee designated by the 1947 General Assembly to consult with him on selection of the European site. The committee is considering the report this morning but Lie makes the final decision.

Estimate Of Cost

In anticipation by the 1947 U. N. Budgetary committee of higher costs for an assembly session in Europe, the General Assembly approved an extra sum of $1,047,875 for the 1948 meeting. Lie's estimates rank the extra cost for the General Assembly in four candidate cities as follows:

Brussels—$1,173,021.
Geneva—$1,089,000.
The Hague—$4,500,000.
Paris—$1,089,000.

Those extra cost estimates in effect eliminate The Hague, where the facilities as defined in the report also are least suitable.

Brussels falls into third place with its higher cost and the fact that the Belgian government has pronounced itself handicapped in providing sufficient hotel and other accommodations.

Strongest Arguments

The two strongest arguments in favor of Paris according to the Lie figures, are the French franc devaluation, spacious facilities for the assembly and extensive hotel accommodations available within a radius of three miles of the meeting place.

Since the extra cost of holding the assembly in Paris was based on the old franc rate of 216 to the dollar, the estimate goes sharply down and far below the U. N. appropriation on the basis of the current franc rate of 300 to the dollar.

The French government has offered Palais Chailiot, a splendid modern edifice which replaced the historic Trocadero. The building has space for plenary, council and committee meetings.

It is near the Tour Eiffel and within walking distance of the Champs Elysee and the shopping district. Lie's report records that there will be 2,900 hotel rooms available in the three-mile radius.

The French government, more than the other three, has promised to shoulder considerable expenditures in preparing for the assembly and making the necessary alterations.

The literal meaning of the word oxygen is "acid former."

GRAIN FROM RUSSIA IN ENGLAND

A NUMBER OF ENGLISH STEVEDORES run their hands through part of a shipload of grain which arrived in London from Russia. The cargo came in aboard the Baku after an exchange agreement had been made where-by England will ship machinery to Russia for grain. (International)

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

of the United States, will be interpreted by most persons to mean that the facts contained in the report are unpalatable and of such nature as to fail to justify the large appropriation asked. If the report contains matters which are not complimentary to the Nationalist side of the picture, these are the very matters which Congress—and the American public—are entitled to know before doling out the millions. Hiding behind the excuse of "military secrecy" does not change the facts.

A large share of the billions which have gone to help up our colossal national debt were disbursed under the blank check system during the Roosevelt regime. The excuse then was "military necessity." There is no such excuse now, so far as the country is concerned. Congress should stand pat and refuse to consider any appropriation without a full knowledge of General Wedemeyer's report.

A "FELLER" NEEDS A GIRL.
KEY WEST, Fla.—(INS)—Edgar, the famous Hollywood hair stylist, has created a new hairdo which he named "The Feller Curve" in honor of Bobby Feller, the famous Cleveland pitcher. Edgar claims that with this new "curve" in the hair, the girls can get their "feller" without any difficulty!

Health Talks

By DR. W. A. WOMER
City Health Superintendent

SANITARIUM

Tuberculosis is a disease which has plagued the world for centuries.

It is hard to deal with for a good many reasons. Sometimes a long time goes by from the time the disease enters the body before any signs of it show up. The victim may seem to be perfectly well for a long time while the trouble is slowly developing.

Sometimes with the best of care it takes a long time for a patient to overcome the disease. He is not able to work and the expense of treatment is great.

Sanitarium treatment is the best for tuberculosis patients. It is a calamity when the mother or father of a family gets tuberculosis.

Even with free sanitarium treatment the financial problem is appalling. A mother worrying about the care of her children may not overcome the disease very quickly.

A father who cannot provide for his family doesn't have much pep to fight sickness.

ON THE LEVEL

BALTIMORE.—(INS)—In these days of high prices, there's one unique commodity that inflation hasn't touched. It's human hair. At the retail level, tresses still are selling at the old pre-war price of five dollars a pound, according to the Friez Instrument Division of Bendix Aviation Corporation. The company uses delicate strands of hair in the manufacture of weather instruments, especially humidity recorders. Friez officials say that no other substance is as consistently sensitive and accurate for use as a moisture sensitive element.

by indecision that they could safely ignore us as a factor. And they were very nearly right. You can be sure, too, that the master planners in the Kremlin now know what year it is.

On the average of one out of every three years, the divided powers of our government are split between the two major parties. The result is stalemate, and that is no secret from the rest of the world.

If the European recovery program is approved in a workable form, it will be thanks to two facts that override even the inherent divisiveness of the split government we live under.

First is the fact that a remarkable range of opinion was swung behind the program—opinion so articulate and so representative that it cannot be disregarded. And second is the stature of the two men who have had the most to do with the program—Secretary of State George C. Marshall and Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg. But nevertheless there is no guarantee that a workable plan will be adopted.

On other vital policy matters paralysis or confusion are the rule. Congress and the executive are engaged in trying to blame each other for prices, speculation, and now the commodity decline. And anyone who thinks the tragedy of Palestine, where so many vital interests are concentrated, will not be exploited in this political year is naive beyond belief. Even on such an elemental matter as tax collection, the two branches fall out, and so this process fundamental to government is impeded. So it goes in every department.

The remedy? A constitutional amendment could cure it by insuring that executive and Congress could not be divided between opposing parties. Such an amendment would be a major step in the right direction. But the process of amending the constitution seems, like the gear of a motor long untouched, to have become frozen in disuse.

You sometimes hear talk about "rising above politics." But that is too much to expect from human nature in this political year, and we should realize that the fault is not with the politicians but with a defect in our political system.

INTRODUCING DAUGHTER-IN-LAW TO FRIENDS

"I have a new daughter-in-law and would like to know just how to introduce her to my friends. She is an out-of-town girl and therefore a stranger to all my friends and neighbors."

Answer: Why not give a luncheon and bridge and invite those of your neighbors and friends whom you would like to meet your new daughter-in-law? If she is fond of bridge and meets in this way your acquaintances who are likewise fond of the game, she will immediately make contacts which will probably help to make her enjoy her new life. Bridge players always welcome with open arms any one who shares their enthusiasm for this modern pastime. Should she have no interest in bridge, give in her honor an afternoon tea or an evening party, inviting men as well as women. Any of these functions would be a very pleasant and proper means of presenting your daughter-in-law to your friends and of giving her an opportunity to receive invitations from them.

Question: What is the proper arrangement of the processional at a double wedding?

Answer: The ushers—half of whom are friends of the first and half friends of the second bridegroom—proceed to the altar together. Next come the bridesmaids of the older bride followed by the maid of honor. The older bride follows, escorted by her father. Then come the bridesmaids of the younger bride, followed by the maid of honor. Then comes the younger bride, escorted by her father. If she is a sister of the elder bride, her next nearest male relative should walk up the aisle with her.

Question: Which soup plate should be used for dinner, the one with the rim or the flat rimless kind?

Answer: Rimmed soup plates are the most proper for dinner. The other type is used for only "family occasions."

Fears Budget Slash May Cut U. S. Air Force

By GEORGE MOISE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The air force faced the possibility that congressional slashing of the budget could reduce America's overseas occupation air power to impotence.

An air force spokesman said that while reductions in funds available probably would not be applied in direct proportion to all branches of the air force, budget slashes would "ultimately be reflected" in reduction of occupation strength. Rep. Engel (R) Mich., chairman of the house appropriations subcommittee on the army and air forces, predicts that "substantial cuts" will be made in President Truman's 11½ billion dollar defense budget.

At the present time the United States has only about 130 first line combat planes, ready for action, in the European theater. It is unofficially estimated that there are approximately 1,000 combat-ready aircraft in the Pacific area.

May Have To Reduce
The present air force is based on a strength of 55 groups. But Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, deputy chief of air staff, told the president's air policy commission that unless more funds were made available it would be necessary to reduce this strength to 40 groups.

The new air force budget requests congress for funds that will maintain 55 groups, but a reduction to present fund level would force the elimination of 15 groups. If this reduction were to be followed in direct proportion, U. S. forces in Germany and Austria would be cut to less than 90 planes, and in the Pacific to about 875.

But the spokesman said that a cut directly proportionate could not be expected. A reduction in funds, he said, would call for complete revamping of plans and it might be decided to keep all present strength in occupation areas.

But, he added, smaller forces in the United States necessarily would be reflected in the long run overseas.

On the other hand, adoption of the air policy commission's recommendations for 70 groups in the regular establishment would strengthen occupation air power. On this basis simple arithmetic would give the U. S. approximately 150 combat planes in Europe and between 1,250 and 1,300 in the Pacific.

The 70-group recommendation, which is basically that of the air force as well as the commission, calls for 50 groups in the United States and 20 groups overseas. However, these 20 would not all be in occupation forces, as the U. S. maintains air power in other areas, such as the Caribbean and the Panama Canal Zone.

Nine-Year-Old Girl Is Heroine

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16.—(INS)—Nine-year-old Dolores Maxwell was the heroine today of a family ducking in Fairmont Park's icy Concourse lake.

Dolores' brother David, four, strayed from the path around the lake and wandered onto the ice-covered pond. The ice broke and Dolores plunged into four feet of water after him. So did her brother Edward, five, and sister Jeannette, six.

She cracked a path through the ice and towed the trio to shore. Then, remembering her mother's frequent warnings to the children never to get their feet wet, she made them take their shoes and stockings off to dry.

Motorists who found the drenched, barefoot quartet shivering on a park bench took them to nearby state police headquarters.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 16.—(INS)—Beauteous Gene Tierney is making a personal search for a good movie story.

"She's finished 'The Iron Curtain' for Brother Zanuck so she's casting her eye around. 'I've had a lot of people tell me that 'Turquoise' would make an ideal story for me," Gene said, "the only trouble is that it is owned by Warner's so there seems to be very little chance of me doing it."

"I deliberately haven't read the story because if I liked it as much as people think I would I'd just suffer a lot from disappointment if I couldn't do it."

Simon Hunts Story
Another Hollywood notable interested in a perfect story is director S. Sylvan Simon, who completes "The Southern Yankee" for M-G-M.

Sylvan leaves March 8 on a two months trip to South America—and Trinidad. He's anxious to do some research on Trinidad about a story he thinks would make a great screen feature.

He's also due to make a radio appearance on Red Skelton's show a week from Tuesday night. He's now directing Red in pictures, so he said, "I'd sure better have some good comebacks ready for the air show."

Tough Luck
They're certainly having a lot of tough luck on "Julia Misbehaves." After being out for almost two weeks with a bad attack of Virus X Greer Garson returned to work to find that her co-star, Walter Pidgeon, has been stricken.

It is Walter's second bout with the little bug. He was in bed over Christmas and New Year's. The picture won't have to shut down, as they can do some of the scenes in which Greer appears with other members of the cast.

Attitude Toward
Press Protested

Forest And Waters Secretary's Attitude Causes Complaint—Has Duff's Support

OTHER NEWS OF
STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Feb. 16.—(INS)—Forest and Waters Secretary Draelm, a retired admiral, may be subject to much criticism on his unbending conduct of office, but he has the solid support of Gov. James H. Duff. . . . News men protesting Draelm's attitude toward the press have been told by Duff that he respects the former seaman's opinions on administration of forest and water conservation. . . . Duff has great respect for the man and his career. . . . Draelm refuses his personal official time to discuss news stories and turns calls for newsworthy information over to a public relations man.

Demands for an investigation of the Public Utility commission can be expected when the legislature convenes as one result of the agency's order denying 96 ex-servicemen permission to operate taxi cabs in Philadelphia. . . . The Pennsylvania Veterans of Foreign Wars started the ball rolling with a formal request to Governor Duff for an inquiry. . . . Duff was the first to criticize the PUC for its action. . . . Chairman John Siggins, Jr., of Warren, has been subjected to bitter criticism and although he voted with the majority it was not his ballot in the 4-1 vote which rejected the petitions. . . . John B. Conly, of Pittsburgh, a Duff appointee, voted No. Joining Siggins were Henry Houck, of Pottsville; B. Frank Morgal, of Camp Hill, an employee of the PUC since 1914 and a commissioner since 1940; and Harold A. Scragg, of Seranton. . . Siggins and Morgal were appointed by Governor James while Houck and Scragg were named by Governor Martin. Morgal was reappointed by Duff.

A number of changes will take place in the Dauphin county legislative delegation this year. Rep. William H. Bonawitz, third term house member from the rural district, was snubbed by Republicans when he sought endorsement for re-election. . . . The G.O.P. dropped him in favor of R. Dixon Herman, Millersburg attorney. . . . Bonawitz's 1946 running mate in the rural districts, Blaine C. Hocker, an Oberlin milk dealer, will be the sole member remaining in the race. . . . Reps. David P. Reese and Charles W. Tittle, both Harrisburg Republicans, will not try for new terms. . . . Many county residents regard the potential change as a good sign. . . . Tittle was known by colleagues mostly for clowning.

Harry R. Roberts, of Pittsburgh, credits himself for friendlier highway signs in Pennsylvania. . . . Roberts disliked state border notices sternly informing visitors and homecomers that 50 miles is top speed in Pennsylvania and the limit is "strictly enforced." . . . So he suggested to the governor a more hospitable approach. . . . And the governor in turn suggested it to Highways Secretary Ray F. Smock. . . . New signs are being prepared to read "Welcome to Pennsylvania. . . . Respect the 50-mile speed limit. . . . Take time to enjoy our scenery."

Pennsylvania industries are the nation's largest users of electrical energy, according to the state planning board. . . . During 1946 they consumed one-ninth of all current fed to commerce, it reported.

Compared with other parts of the United States, city families in the South consume little meat.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Feb. 16.

Clyde Stuart, 36, who escaped from the Weston state hospital for the criminally insane 10 months ago, was back in custody today in the Huntington jail.

Stuart was found insane while on trial for murder ten years ago.

Reports Accident
On Highway 422

Several persons from Ohio are in the South Side hospital, Youngstown, because of an accident between an auto and truck, at 10:15 p. m. Saturday on new Route 422 at the intersection of Route 51.

According to the truck driver, Thomas F. O'Dea, 58, of 325½ Pearl street, Youngstown, the car was over the center line, bound westward and his truck, bound east, collided with it.

The persons were removed to the hospital and O'Dea reported the accident to State Police here.

The Jesuit fathers began building the famous Cataldo Mission near Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, in 1848, and spent 20 years erecting it. It was constructed without a nail, and still stands, in a good state of preservation.

GLASS-MURDER CASES

TOLEDO.—(INS)—Even murder was invoked to protect the secret of glass manufacture in the days when Venice was at the height of its glory, according to a history compiled by the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company. Glass making was then conducted only by master craftsmen who worked behind locked doors, protected by secret guilds whose members were punished by death and their families thrown into prison if the secrets of the guilds were divulged.

It's a man's life!

Do you know whether you've got what it takes when the chips are down?

There's one good way to find out just how much of a man you are. Enlist in the U. S. Army as a combat soldier. That's tops. That's the spearhead—the sharp cutting edge of the Army's manpower.

The world's best training for manhood is in the Infantry, Artillery and Armored Cavalry. Once you've made the grade in those hard-hitting services you'll know what you've got. You'll have firm confidence in your own abilities and resources.

It's a proud feeling to be able to say "I'm a U. S. Army Soldier." There's no more honored title than that. It stands for the finest fighting man on earth.

The work of a combat soldier isn't easy or soft. But it's vitally important to the peace and security of America. There's satisfaction in it. There's good pay—better than in most civilian jobs. There's the opportunity for excellent training in a wide variety of valuable trades and skills. And there are other things money can't buy—such as rugged, clear-eyed health and the lasting comradeship of real men.

If you're 18 to 34 years old (17 with parents' consent), physically sound and mentally keen—if you'd like to prove to yourself that you measure up as a man—talk it over at your nearest U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station today!

Started 50 Years Ago

The summer session is nothing new to school teachers or to Penn State. Exactly 50 years ago, Penn State, realizing the need for those already in teaching to "follow out special lines of study or research during vacation," pioneering in such summer instruction.

First work was offered in 1898 and led ultimately to an annual "Summer Session for Teachers," jointly sponsored by Penn State and the State Department of Public Instruction, both agencies expressing a vital interest in the improvement of teachers already in service.

The first session attracted 174 students and offered 51 courses which were taught by a faculty of 25. Started principally for school teachers, the summer session has since grown to embrace members of the regular student body speeding up their work. Last summer more than 5000 attended, taking 450 different courses taught by 100 faculty members.

Today's main summer session, which the successful candidate will attend, begins June 28 and closes August 7. It is preceded by an inter-session of two weeks and followed by two post-sessions, one running three weeks, one running six.

These sessions are provided not only for school teachers and administrators but also for undergraduate and graduate students working for advanced degrees. Veterans in great numbers take advantage of the summer instruction to finish long-delayed schooling as soon as possible.

Last year, more than 3200 of the students were teachers. Students came from every Pennsylvania county, from 35 other states, and from five foreign countries. The Central Library, with more than 300,000 volumes is the heart of this summer study.

Honest, I Didn't Know USED FATS WERE STILL BADLY NEEDED!

Lady, where have you been? Used fats are needed now more than ever, because the shortage of fats and oils today is the greatest in the world's history. Our government warns us that the supply simply cannot meet today's industrial needs. You can help prevent this supply from getting too low by continuing to turn in your used fats.

You say you re-use them for cooking! Fine! But even the drops left after that are worth salvaging. Then how about melting down fat trimmings, skimming gravies? Those tricks yield plenty!

And come to think of it, what other kitchen waste can you convert into good hard cash? It's a point to remember, these days of high food costs! You know, prices butchers pay for used fats are up, on the average. So please . . . don't throw your fats away. Save 'em, and turn 'em in!

Music Students Close Festival

City Of Bradford Named As 1949 Host To All State
Music Event; Date
To Be Selected

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 16.—A tired but happy group of high school musicians from all sections of Pennsylvania boarded home-bound buses and private automobiles late Saturday night and Sunday morning after concluding one of the best All-State Band festivals held in the 13-year history of the state organization.

The closing features of the three-day meet held in Lincoln High school were the splendid banquet held Saturday evening in the U. P. church and the great concert on Saturday evening in the high school auditorium, directed by Dr. Frank Simon of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and noted bandmaster.

Despite inclement weather which to a certain extent hampered attendances to those events which were open to the public, a fine audience was present at the concluding concert on Saturday evening. Russell J. Schill, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce presented a huge Valentine bouquet of flowers to the band members mid-way in the concert.

Mr. Schill served as master of ceremonies during the banquet given for the visiting musicians and their directors by the Chamber of Commerce. Presented during the dinner were the Pittsburgh Barber Shop quartet and an outstanding magician who intrigued the students with his antics.

At the conclusion of the concert it was announced that the Bradford, Pa., high school will be the host to the 1948 All-State Band Festival with the date to be decided by the state committee.

I. Barnes Weinstein, host to the visitors and director of instrumental music in Ellwood schools, extended thanks to each and everyone who had a part in entertaining the school musicians and who assisted in making their stay in Ellwood a pleasant one.

Double Charges In Ellwood Case

Auto Driver And Police Officers
Are Defendants As Result
Of Auto Incident

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 16.—George Keul, of Frisco, has been charged with aggravated assault and battery, resisting an officer, and violation of traffic laws in both Lawrence and Beaver counties by Chief of Police Clark Rice. Keul has also charged Ellwood City Police Officers Fred W. Kirkpatrick and John Ursu with aggravated assault and battery.

The counter charges result from an occurrence which had its inception in Ellwood City Saturday night. According to Chief Rice, his two patrolmen were out in the cruiser car and noticed a car parked with right front and rear wheels upon the sidewalk.

Believing that help might be needed the officers stopped the cruiser car and went over to the car. As the driver, George Keul, saw the officers coming he started his car and despite their attempts to question him, he got away.

The two officers were suspicious and followed the Keul car over the Beaver County line, finally getting the car stopped. According to Chief Rice, Keul called the officers names and then took a swing at Ursu. Ursu defended himself and in the melee Ursu's finger was bitten almost off. Kirkpatrick aided Ursu and the man was arrested.

Before a Beaver county justice of the peace, Keul pleaded guilty to the aggravated assault and battery and resisting an officer, according to Chief Rice. He then laid charges against the officers. Bail in the amount of $1,000 was posted for the officers.

NUMBERS CHARGE

Change Site, Date For Ice Carnival Show

Optimist club today announced that the Ice Carnival for boys and girls of the city will be held Tuesday night (weather permitting) at the "New-El" pond, five miles from downtown New Castle on the Ellwood road.

General Chairman Joe Daugherty, in making this announcement, said that it was necessary to switch the site from Cascade Park due to a large crack which split the lake and has cancelled all skating there for the remainder of the season.

If the weather is not cold enough Tuesday the Carnival will be held the first night that a good freeze makes skating possible, it was added.

FEED COWS GRAIN TO MATCH OUTPUT

Cows need grain in proportion to the amount of milk they produce. Otherwise some may eat too much feed, which is wasteful, while others go underfed for efficient production.

Feeding one pound of grain for each three pounds of milk produced by Guernseys and Jerseys and 1 pound of grain for each 3 1/2 pounds of milk produced by other breeds is a common rate of feeding. Dairymen who belong to dairy herd improvement associations and who have the milk of each cow tested every month find that feeding one pound of grain per day for each pound of butterfat produced in a week is an excellent proportion.

Any method of feeding must be used with judgment. The condition of the cow, the quality of roughage, and the butterfat test all must be taken into consideration. When a method of feeding grain is adopted and used with judgment, no grain will be wasted and milk will be produced as efficiently and economically as possible.

SALADS
It is a mistake to leave salads out of meals because they require too much time and effort and material. A combination of raw vegetables or fruits needs no further preparation than the addition of a simple salad dressing. Fresh fruits and vegetables contribute minerals and vitamins needed for health and for building body resistance against colds and certain diseases.

Fresh green vegetables are limited in the winter. However, there are several less popular but equally appetizing substitutes. In place of fresh tomatoes and lettuce, use raw turnips, carrots, celery, green peppers, beets, and cabbage in crisp salads. Fresh apples make a good salad base. Both raw and fresh vegetables and fruit salads are refreshing and break the sameness of cooked foods at every meal, especially this time of year.

Citrus fruits make refreshing salads if the fruit is peeled and the membrane removed from each section. To get more variety, change the vegetable combinations and dressings. A favorite but time-worn salad can be changed by adding various spices or seasonings. For example—add tomato juice, different types of vinegars, sauerkraut juice, bits of crisp bacon, chopped pickles, hard-cooked chopped egg or even peanut butter to improve a basic French dressing. Make use of left over fruit juices by adding them as part of the liquid in homemade dressings.

A few tips on preparing salads. Simple salads are more attractive than those that are elaborate. The ingredients should not be cut so small that the salad has a hashed appearance. In most cases cutting is better than grinding or chopping. Combine foods in salads that have contrast in color and texture but harmonize in flavor. Serve them cold to contrast with the hot dishes in the meal. Never repeat in the salad, a vegetable or fruit that is used in another way for the same meal. Salads tossed or arranged casually on a plate look much more appetizing than those that have a meticulous and well balanced look. The less handling the salad gets, the better.

Taft Supporters Claim He's Ahead

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—(INS)—Supporters of Senator Robert A. Taft (R) Ohio, claimed today that he is leading the field of GOP Presidential candidates in potential delegate strength.

They estimated at the close of his western "Lincoln Week" tour that Taft would win more than 100 of the 163 convention delegates from the six states he visited.

Nationally, considering the Ohioan's southern support, they believe there is more delegate strength leaning toward Taft than toward Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Taft himself wound up his trip saying that he found the outlook "extremely encouraging" in the states he entered—Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa and Colorado. But he declined to make any delegate claims.

SOUTHERN SALVATION
NEW YORK — (INS)—It's been so cold in Richmond that The Salvation Army there has been swamped with calls for bed comforts, blankets and even adequate mattresses for shivering Virginians. Major Hugo Bloomberg, the local officer, doled out his considerable stock, on hand for an emergency or disaster. But it wasn't enough. He had to make an urgent public appeal when Old Man Winter prolonged his stay in the sunny South.

St. Mary's Group Has Open House

Catholic Press Month Observed With Program By St. Mary's Sodality Sunday

Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock sodalists of St. Mary's church held open house in the church basement, featuring February "Catholic Press Month". Guides, members of the Catholic Truth committee with Mary Lowers as chairman, directed all visitors through the sodality's literature and poster displays.

After a few words of welcome by Prefect Nancy Lehman a tableau, "The Message of Fatima", written and narrated by Frances Dougherty, under the direction of Sister Miriam Joseph was presented. Those participating were: Our Blessed Lady, Eileen Campbell; the three children, George Nader, Carol and Patricia Biondi, and the angel, Ann Heaney. Mary Ann Gittings favored with "Ave Maria", accompanied by Jane Lockley. A comic skit entitled "The Persecuted Maiden" followed with Patricia Kennedy, Viola Gittings, Phyllis Bunnell, Dorothy Doran, Patricia Fee and Kathleen Sleighter taking part; then Mary Bussey performed a unique twirling act.

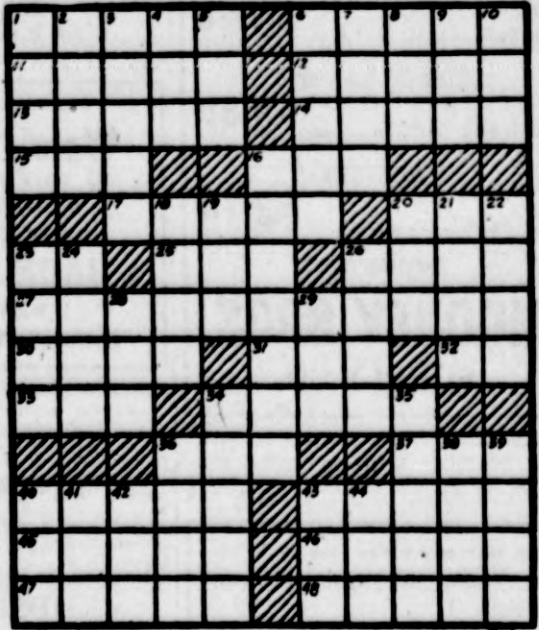

Rev. Fr. Francis Gallagher, sodality director, spoke briefly on the program's central theme "Catholic Press Month". Group singing followed while votes cast in the poster contest were being counted. The winners were Leo Dougherty and Joan Hogue, who were presented with prizes while all the other contestants received a year's subscription to the magazine "Manna". Refreshments were later served by the Apostolic committee with Jane Lockley in charge.

Other committees which assisted were: ticket, Lorena Lehman and Carolyn Pearce; cleaning, Eucharistic committee with Peg O'Leary chairman; decorating and programs, Social Life and membership committee with Agnes O'Connor as chairman; publicity, Peg Valley and Rita Hogue and their committee; and clean-up, Lois Cunningham and the Our Lady's committee.
